Keynote Address

Putting a Strategic Lens on the Work of Equity, Diversity & Inclusion - A Leadership Stimulus Package

Over the past few years, there has been a timely call for greater demonstration of organizational commitment to putting a strategic lens on the work of equity, diversity, and inclusion. This important need forms the backbone of a leadership stimulus package that is necessary to raise important questions about how we can address societal inequity and, at the same time, seize opportunities for greater inclusion in the community.

In a highly interactive virtual keynote, Professor Nouman Ashraf will offer practicable insights on how participants can assemble such a leadership stimulus package.
